

Active Transport - Requires cellular energy to move substances across cell membrane

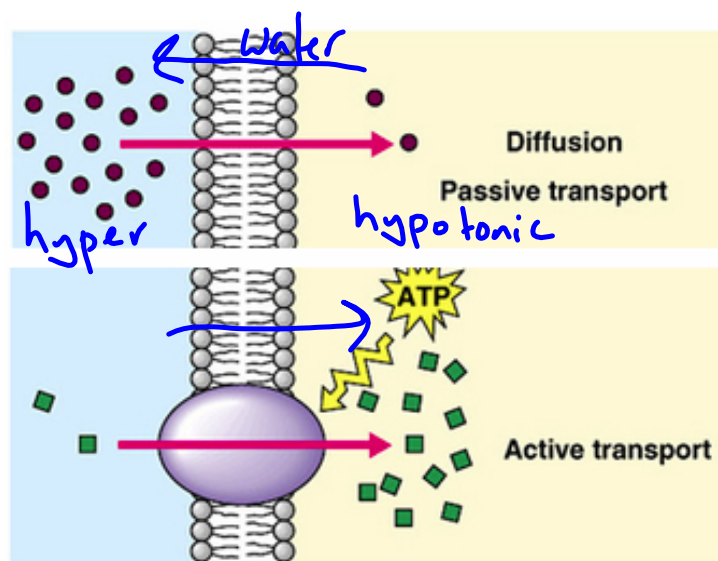

Passive Transport

Active Transport

Compare and Contrast

Active Transport - Moves substances from low to high concentration (against concentration gradient)

Requires energy!