

Roll several objects down a ramp in pairs. Notice which one is faster. As you discover what makes an object roll faster, try some experiments to verify your hypothesis. Now build an object to roll down a ramp in a competition. Mr. Shumway will give you the object that defines the diameter, you do the rest.