

Get a team of girls together, and a team of boys, for a tug of war. It may be good to have an equal number of each, but if I give instructions to the girls, I think they can win even if they don't have as many. Send me an e-mail of what you observe, and try to explain why.